

Goodman Oaks Church of Christ, a congregation of approximately 300 members in Southaven, Mississippi, is seeking a full-time Youth Minister to lead, teach, and mentor its 7th - 12th grade members. Working under the oversight of the elders, the youth minister will plan and coordinate youth classes, activities, and programs, while partnering with parents and families to support the spiritual growth of their children. Ideal candidates will have a strong personal faith, relevant education or ministry training, hands-on experience working with young people in a church setting, and strong interpersonal and teaching skills. Please contact Anthony Ashton if you have an interest in applying.
